Section 2 – Overview (Support)

Summary:

1) As part of the General Education Curriculum Proposal that was approved by President Wheelwright and that Commissioner’s Office in Summer 2013, one additional change that needs to happen is to change all of the third-semester language classes to become 3 credit courses rather than 4 credits courses.

2) As part of the General Education Curriculum Proposal approved Summer 2013, World Communities will become the capstone class for the General Education class and will be now called GE 300.

GE 300(H). World Communities (3) (F, W, S) Civilization in the modern world; explores dilemmas between world communities, examines events in world history, and seeks to teach methods of textual analysis. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)

The Interdisciplinary Studies course in the current GE program will no longer be a requirement and students will have English 315 and GE 300 as their upper-level classes.

World Communities is currently taught as History 202 and History 202 will continue to be taught as the second half of the World History Sequence.

HIST 202(H). History of Civilization Since 1500 (3) (F, W, S) Major world civilizations from 1500 to the present; emphasizes textual analysis and information literacy. (Prerequisite: ENGL 101)
