Section 2 – Overview (Support)

Summary: The one-credit ‘Practicum Preparation Seminar’ is to prepare Social Work Students for the documentation and real experiences of the 12 credit Social Work Practicum.

Students who enroll in the Social Work Practicum will have many realities to face in their 425 hour experience – the signature experience of the program and the major experience upon which the CSWE accreditation depends. We propose to add a one-credit preparation seminar to fine-tune the preparation experience.

One problem is that we are having difficulties with students obtaining signed practicum contracts far enough in advance of the semester beginning to allow for registration, travel, and other arrangements to take place.

The second problem is that students really aren’t prepared with all of the information that they need prior to beginning the practicum and the first few weeks of their practicums are being used answering questions or resolving concerns that should have been dealt with previously. The Social Work department has created a Canvas practicum preparation course which students are asked to complete the semester prior to their practicum, which has helped, but there is no incentive for students to complete the activities and no real repercussions if they do not.

Formalizing that Canvas practicum preparation course as a 1.0 credit practicum preparation seminar would give students the incentive that they need (a grade) to complete the necessary activities and would also allow for classroom time to make sure that they are adequately prepared. This would also provide an opportunity to include important social work topics that may not be adequately covered in other classes.

In addition, the department seeks to change 491L and 491R to letter grades rather than pass/fail.

Changes in Graduation Requirements:

All Social Work students will be required to complete this course prior to engaging in the final Practicum experience. The attached MRS for Social Work shows that this one credit course will raise no complications for the program.

Changes in Expected Teaching Load:

This course will be taught by the Social Work Internship Director, Christian Kunz, as a part of his practicum assignment.

Practicum Hours: CSWE require upward of 400 hours in the Practicum – we propose to change our number from 450 to 425.

Field Education
The Field Education Program is an integral part of the generalist social work program reserved for seniors majoring in social work at BYU-Hawaii. Field education is comprised of a practicum and a seminar that give students the opportunity to discuss how they infuse knowledge, values, and skills at their agency. Students may select from two practicum options, Winter semester or Spring-Summer terms. Students are expected to be in their agencies 5 days a week averaging 35 hours per week. Students should plan to not work and not take any other course during their practicum. Regardless of the option selected, students are required to obtain a minimum of 425 practicum hours, be supervised by a professional social worker, be enrolled in a seminar, and be placed in an agency-based social service setting. Irrespective of the practicum option selected, students who would like to exceed 480 hours must receive prior approval from the Field Practicum Director.

Upon successful completion of the practicum and seminar requirements, students receive 12 credit hours.

Major Requirements

Students who have completed the prerequisites are required to take 60 semester hours within the following areas. No social work course credit is granted for D+ or lower grades, life experience, or previous work experience.

Mission Statement:
The Brigham Young University Hawai‘i Social Work Department supports the overall mission of the University and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by preparing culturally competent, effective, and ethical social work professionals committed to providing services to the poor and oppressed. The department also provides opportunities for students to take leadership roles in supporting and promoting social justice and the social work profession internationally by facilitating peace within individuals, families, communities, and nations.

Course Description:
Social Work 490: Practicum Preparation Seminar is a one credit course that should be taken by social work major during the semester immediately preceding their internship. The Practicum Preparation Seminar is designed to assist students in their transition from the classroom to field education. During the course student will learn the importance of field education and their internship experience, receive guidance in selecting an appropriate internship site based on their preferences and professional aspirations and work on refining their resumes and interviewing skills. Students will also take part in discussions on safety during the internship, the NASW Code of Ethics and ethical decision-making, professionalism, and self-care. The course will culminate with the student obtaining a signed contract from a social service agency agreeing to provide a 425 hour internship opportunity for the student.

Course Outcomes: (Also known as Student Learning Outcomes or SLOs)
At the completion of this course:
11. Students can discuss the importance of field education as the signature pedagogy in social work education.
12. Students can articulate their role as an intern in a social service agency.

19. Students can describe the fundamental principles of professionalism that they will display during their internship experience.
20. Students have a signed contract from a social service agency agreeing to provide a 425 hour internship opportunity for the student.
Course Requirements:

Resume – Securing an internship placement site is typically very similar to finding a job and a strong resume is an important tool for a student to possess. Student will be asked to prepare a draft copy of their resume and bring a hard copy to class on Wednesday, December 16th. Student will receive feedback from their instructor and their peers and then will be asked to turn in a hard copy of their final resume on Wednesday, January 6th. Resumes will be worth a total of 30 points and both the draft and final resume will be considered in grading.

Mock Interview – Another critical part of securing an internship placement site involving an interview of some kind, either in person, via phone, or electronically. Students will be given the opportunity to participate in a mock interview process, both as an interviewer and an applicant, and these interviews will be observed by their peers. Student who have participated in this process in the past have found it very beneficial to see the interview process from both sides of the table and to receive constructive feedback from their peers. Mock interviews will take place on Wednesday, January 6th and 13th. The mock interview process will be worth a total of 30 points and both the student performance as an interviewer and an applicant will be considered in grading.

Contract – Obtaining a signed contract from a social service agency that agrees to provide the student with a 425 hour internship experience is the most critical element of the Practicum Preparation Seminar. As such, the signed contact is worth 100 points. The signed is due at the beginning of class on Wednesday, January 27th. Contracts that are turned in after this date will be deducted 2 points for each day that they are late. No contract will be accepted after the final examination. Students who do not have signed contract prior to the final examination will not be approved to complete their internship the next semester.

Final Examination – Students are expected to keep up the assigned reading in the textbook, which are listed on the class schedule. Chapter reading are typically fairly short and contain critical information as the student prepares for their practicum. One examination, worth 100 points, will be given during the final examination period of Friday, February 26th from 10:00 a.m. – 12:50 p.m.

Attendance & Professionalism – The Practicum Preparation Seminar is expected to be a very experiential process and, as such, attendance in class is critical. Students will be given 10 points for attendance each day of class. Students who are late will lose a portion of these points, depending on how late they are. Numerous participatory assignments will be given during class, which will also figure into their grade each class period.

The Spirit of Aloha:

BYU-Hawaiʻi is an extraordinarily unique educational setting that combines religious and academic pursuits into an environment that is open and welcoming to all. A critical element to the rare atmosphere here at BYU-Hawai’i is the Spirit of Aloha. The Spirit of Aloha has been compared to the love of Christ, to charity, to compassion, and to the genuine openness and embrace that Hawaiians have for all mankind. In ancient Hawai’i children were taught the Spirit of Aloha from a very young age. The book “Tales of the Night Rainbow” by Koko Willis and Pail Jae Lee provide the following as being a part of the teaching of young Hawaiians in ancient days:

Aloha is being a part of all and all being a part of me.
When there is pain – it is my pain.
When there is joy – it is mine also.

This is Hawaiian – this is Aloha!

This Spirit of Aloha is critical in the practice of social work. Being able to understand, embrace, and share the pain of another human soul is a unique and powerful gift and one that can inspire a lot of change in the world. I would ask that each of you, regardless of your future life pursuits, seek to embrace the Spirit of Aloha while you are here at BYU-Hawai’i and take it with you wherever your life may take you.
